MADRIGALS, DRINKING SONGS

Founded in 1982 by Douglas Lawrence, The Choir of Ormond College, the University of Melbourne, quickly established itself as one of Australia's finest.

Though its biennial European tours, the choir now enjoys an enviable international reputation, and the choir continue have an ongoing recording schedule. A pioneer in historically aware performances, the choir gave, with The Melbourne Bach Orchestra, the Melbourne premiere of both the Bach St John Passion and Mass in B minor using period instruments.

At the other end of the spectrum, the Choir of Ormond College regularly commissioned new works to be sung in chapel and concert. The choir sang in the college chapel each Sunday evening during the academic year, presents a concert series in the beautiful Gothic revival Ormond dining hall.

Other recordings by the choir include I HEARD THE OWL CALL MY NAME, KODÁLY: MISSA BREVIS and BEATUS VIR which features sacred works by Palestrina, Gesualdo, Gabrieli, Monteverdi and the rarely performed motets by Charles Villiers Stanford. As well as major choral works and church music, the choir also sang a varied repertoire of lighter music, from spirituals to Purcell's pub songs. A selection from the 'lighter side' is presented on this recording.

Originally released in 1991, this updated edition of I Can Tell the World has been remastered using performances of the spirituals and the Grainger arrangements recorded live in Denmark and Germany in 1993, at the end of a seven week tour of Japan and Europe. The choir had sung these pieces during the tour as set pieces and as encores. As such, these recordings capture the high level of excitement and finesse that the choir had developed as they sang these pieces repeatedly.

There is also an extra bonus track 29, The Music Lesson, recorded at the Move Records studio in the late nineties.

- 13 An old epitaph
male quintet

Under this stone, lies Gabriel John
In the year of our Lord, one thousand and one

Cover his head with turf or stone -
'Tis all one, 'tis all one,
with turf or stone, 'tis all one

Pray for the peace of gentle John if you please, you may or let it alone, 'tis all one.

- 14 I gave her cakes
male quintet

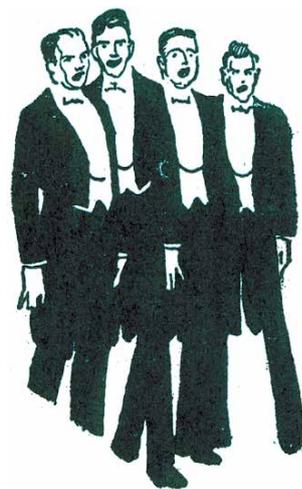

I gave her cakes and I gave her ale
And I gave her sack and sherry.
I kist her once and I kist her twice
And we were wond'rous merry.

I gave her beads and bracelets fine
and I gave her gold down derry.
I thought she was afear'd
'til she strok'd my beard
and we were wond'rous merry.

Merry my heart merry my cocks,
Merry my sprights,
merry merry merry merry
merry, my hey down derry.

Five madrigals

- 20 Now is the month of Maying
Thomas Morley (1558-1603)
- 21 The silver swan
Thomas Morely (1558-1603)
- 22 April is in my mistress' face
Thomas Weelkes (1576-1623)
- 23 Matona mia cara
Orlando di Lasso (1532-1594)

Matona, lovely maiden,
O listen to the song
I sing beneath the window
while night clouds roll along

I pray you hear my ditty,
'Tis sweet and not too long,
'Tis pointed if not witty,
and sharpened like a prong.
The words of choicest tissue,
to shoot loves aim, belong.
Then from your window issue,
Or else you do me wrong.
You'll say, if once you catch them,
And note their fine ding dong
Petrarch could not match them;
They are so sweet and strong.
But if you think the measure,
should to all scorn belong,
A more complying treasure
I'll choose from out the throng.

24 Il est bel et bon
Passereau (16th C)

Two French drinking songs

25 Quand je bois
Anon Attaignant (1530)

Sopranos:

When I drink claret everything spins around; and it will be the same when I drink wines of Anjou and Arbois. Let's sing and drink, and attack this flagon.

Altos:

Good wine has cheered me up.
Let's sing and forget our troubles.
While we're eating this juicy
ham, let's attack this flagon.

Tenors:

Let's drink up; drink then and attack the flagon.
While we're eating ...

Basses:

Drink up, my friends, let's see the bottom of the glass. While we're eating ...

26 C'est trop parlé de Bacchus
Pierre Certon (c1510-1572)

There's too much fuss over Bacchus and his drinking cup.

That's old hat.

Let's drink without pulling a face.

Rouse yourselves, comrades,
and let's all get together
to drain tankards,
flagons, pitchers and mugs.

Without complaining,
drink your fill continually,
both morning and evening.

I drink to you.

Well then, make the most of it.

Look at me without sighing over it:
do I make a fuss?
